CARNEGIE SCIENCE CENTER TO OFFER NO-KIDS EVENING
21+ NIGHT TO FEATURE GUITAR EXHIBIT, LIVE BAND, OPPORTUNITY TO ADD
THE DARK KNIGHT RISES

PITTSBURGH, August 1, 2012 — All those who have ever wanted to enjoy Carnegie Science Center without having to elbow 8-year-olds out of the way for a chance to compete against the Air Hockeybot, design their own guitar on a touch-screen, or peer at the baby seahorses, will not want to miss 21+ Night at Carnegie Science Center, on Thursday, Aug. 9, from 6-10 pm.

For just $10, adults ages 21 and up will have access to all four floors of exhibits, including GUITAR: The Instrument That Rocked The World, SeaScape, the Miniature Railroad and Village®, roboworld™, the Earthquake Café, the weather station, a planetarium show, and scientific demos. The evening will feature local band Faithful Sinners, consisting of a guitar and musical saw. There will be a cash bar, and snacks will be available for purchase.

Complete the evening with The Dark Knight Rises ($12 non-Members, $11 Members) on Pittsburgh's biggest screen! Show times are 4:15 pm, 7:15 pm, and 10:15 pm.

Highmark SportsWorks® and the USS Requin submarine will not be open. But no worries, there's still plenty of fun to be had!

To register, call 412.237.3400 and press 7, or click on 21+ Night on the homepage of the website, CarnegieScienceCenter.org. Tickets will also be available at the door.

About Carnegie Science Center
Carnegie Science Center is dedicated to inspiring learning and curiosity by connecting science and technology with everyday life. By making science both relevant and fun, the Science Center’s goal is to increase science literacy in the region and motivate young people to seek careers in science and technology. One of the four Carnegie Museums of Pittsburgh, the Science Center is Pittsburgh’s premier science exploration destination, reaching more than 700,000 people annually through its hands-on exhibits, camps, classes and off-site education programs.

About Carnegie Museums of Pittsburgh
Founded by Andrew Carnegie in 1895, Carnegie Museums of Pittsburgh is a collection of four distinctive museums dedicated to exploration through art and science: Carnegie Museum of Art, Carnegie Museum of Natural History, Carnegie Science Center, and the Andy Warhol Museum. Annually, the museums reach more than 1.2 million people through exhibitions, educational programs, outreach activities and special events.
