CARNEGIE SCIENCE CENTER PRESENTS SPRING LASER SHOW LINE-UP

ROBOT ROCK SHOW FEATURES ROBOT-THEMED TUNES

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25, 2016 – Carnegie Science Center is offering visitors of all ages a spectacular sight and sound experience in the Buhl Planetarium with its spring 2016 laser show lineup.

Experience the Robot Rock laser show, an all-ages compilation featuring songs related to robotics. Among the show’s hits are: Major Tom by Peter Schilling, Intergalactic by the Beastie Boys, Technologic by Daft Punk, and several other surprise tunes.

Laser shows at the Science Center offer a wide range of musical styles and genres, including Laser Beatles, Laser MGMT, Laser Journey, and the always-exciting Midnight Pink Floyd – a Science Center staple for decades. The new show schedule will run as follows:

March 3 – March 31*
Matinee (Monday – Sunday):
Laser Beatles Anthology

Friday evenings:
Laser Journey
Robot Rock
Laser MGMT
Midnight Pink Floyd

Saturday evenings:
Laser Journey
The Vision Bell: The Best of Laser Floyd
Robot Rock
Laser MGMT
Midnight Pink Floyd

*NOTE: Buhl Planetarium will be closed for sound system upgrades from March 14 – 18.

Cost for laser show admission is $2 for members and $8 for non-members. A second laser show ticket can be purchased for an additional $5.

Showtimes and descriptions are available at CarnegieScienceCenter.org.
About Carnegie Science Center
Carnegie Science Center is dedicated to inspiring learning and curiosity by connecting science and technology with everyday life. By making science both relevant and fun, the Science Center’s goal is to increase science literacy in the region and motivate young people to seek careers in science and technology. One of the four Carnegie Museums of Pittsburgh, the Science Center is Pittsburgh’s premier science exploration destination, reaching more than 700,000 people annually through its hands-on exhibits, camps, classes, and off-site education programs.

About Carnegie Museums of Pittsburgh
Founded by Andrew Carnegie 120 years ago, Carnegie Museums of Pittsburgh is a collection of four distinctive museums dedicated to exploration through art and science: Carnegie Museum of Art, Carnegie Museum of Natural History, Carnegie Science Center, and The Andy Warhol Museum. The museums reach more than 1.3 million people a year through exhibitions, educational programs, outreach activities, and special events.
