Carnegie Science Center announces new laser show line-up

Beatles, Sublime, and Queen to return by popular demand

PITTSBURGH, July 10, 2013 — Carnegie Science Center offers a spectacular sight and sound experience at the Buhl Planetarium for visitors of all ages, with a new show line-up that will run from Friday, July 12, through Thursday, October 10.

The Beatles, Sublime, and Queen laser shows, offering animated graphics and 3D atmospheric effects, are back by popular demand. Visitors will also have the chance to experience Justin Bieber’s chart-topping music in Laser Bieber and to celebrate a cinematic classic with The Lasers of Oz.

Laser shows at the Science Center offer a wide range of musical styles and genres, including Skrillex, and Midnight Floyd – a Science Center staple for decades. The new show schedule will run as follows:

Matinee (Monday – Friday)
3 pm: Laser Bieber

Matinee (Saturday & Sunday)
1 pm: The Lasers of Oz
3 pm: Laser Bieber

Evening Shows (Friday & Saturday)
7 pm: The Lasers of Oz
8 pm: Beatles
9 pm: Queen
10 pm: Sublime
11 pm: Skrillex
12 am: Midnight Floyd

-MORE-
Cost for laser show admission is $2 for members and $8 for non-members. A second laser show or Omnimax ticket can be purchased for an additional $5. Show times and descriptions are available at CarnegieScienceCenter.org.

About Carnegie Science Center
Carnegie Science Center brings the world of science alive for visitors of all ages. One of the four Carnegie Museums of Pittsburgh, the Science Center features hands-on exhibits, three live demonstration theaters, a four-story Omnimax theater, Highmark SportsWorks®, an interactive full-dome digital planetarium, a Cold War-era submarine moored on Pittsburgh’s Ohio River, the world’s largest and most comprehensive robotics exhibition, and a world-renowned model railroad display. Carnegie Science Center is located at One Allegheny Avenue on Pittsburgh’s North Shore next to Heinz Field. Visit CarnegieScienceCenter.org, or call 412.237.3400 for more information.

About Carnegie Museums of Pittsburgh
Founded by Andrew Carnegie in 1895, Carnegie Museums of Pittsburgh is a collection of four distinctive museums dedicated to exploration through art and science: Carnegie Museum of Art, Carnegie Museum of Natural History, Carnegie Science Center, and The Andy Warhol Museum. Annually, the museums reach more than 1.2 million people through exhibitions, educational programs, outreach activities, and special events.

###