FREE ADMISSION TO SCIENCE CENTER ON JUNE 30 FOR KIDS

KIDS WHO WEAR YOUTH BASEBALL OR SOFTBALL JERSEY GET IN FREE

PITTSBURGH, June 23, 2017 – Kids who wear a youth baseball or softball jersey on Friday, June 30, will enjoy free general admission to Carnegie Science Center.

The Pirate Parrot will stop by at 2:30 pm to say hello to sluggers of all ages.

Youth Baseball and Softball Day is presented by Pirates Charities.

While here, visitors can check out the new Batter Up! exhibit at Highmark SportsWorks®. Visitors swing a bat through a pair of laser beams to see their Major League swing speed. The resulting ball distance and direction is calculated and displayed on the PNC Park diamond. Batter Up! is sponsored by Pirates Charities.

About Carnegie Science Center

Carnegie Science Center is dedicated to inspiring learning and curiosity by connecting science and technology with everyday life. By making science both relevant and fun, the Science Center's goal is to increase science literacy in the region and motivate young people to seek careers in science and technology. One of the four Carnegie Museums of Pittsburgh, the Science Center is Pittsburgh's premier science exploration destination, reaching more than 700,000 people annually through its hands-on exhibits, camps, classes, and off-site education programs.

About Carnegie Museums of Pittsburgh

Established in 1895 by Andrew Carnegie, Carnegie Museums of Pittsburgh is a collection of four distinctive museums: Carnegie Museum of Art, Carnegie Museum of Natural History, Carnegie Science Center, and The Andy Warhol Museum. In 2016, the museums reached more than 1.4 million people through exhibitions, educational programs, outreach activities, and special events.
